The Legend of Babu

A Tale of Nappies, Negotiations, and Empire

Once upon a time, in a very ordinary house, there lived a very extraordinary baby.
His name was Babu.

Babu loved many things.
His toys. His blankets. His afternoon naps.
But nothing in the entire universe could compare to his one true love.
Pacifiers.

Unfortunately, pacifiers don't grow on trees.

And Mommy had a budget.

Babu had a different idea.

If Mommy wouldn't fund his dreams... he'd build an empire himself.

And so, THIS SUCKS.™ was born.

Headquarters? His bedroom.

Employees? His toys.

Chief Security Officer?

Tommy the dog.

Business plan? Classified.

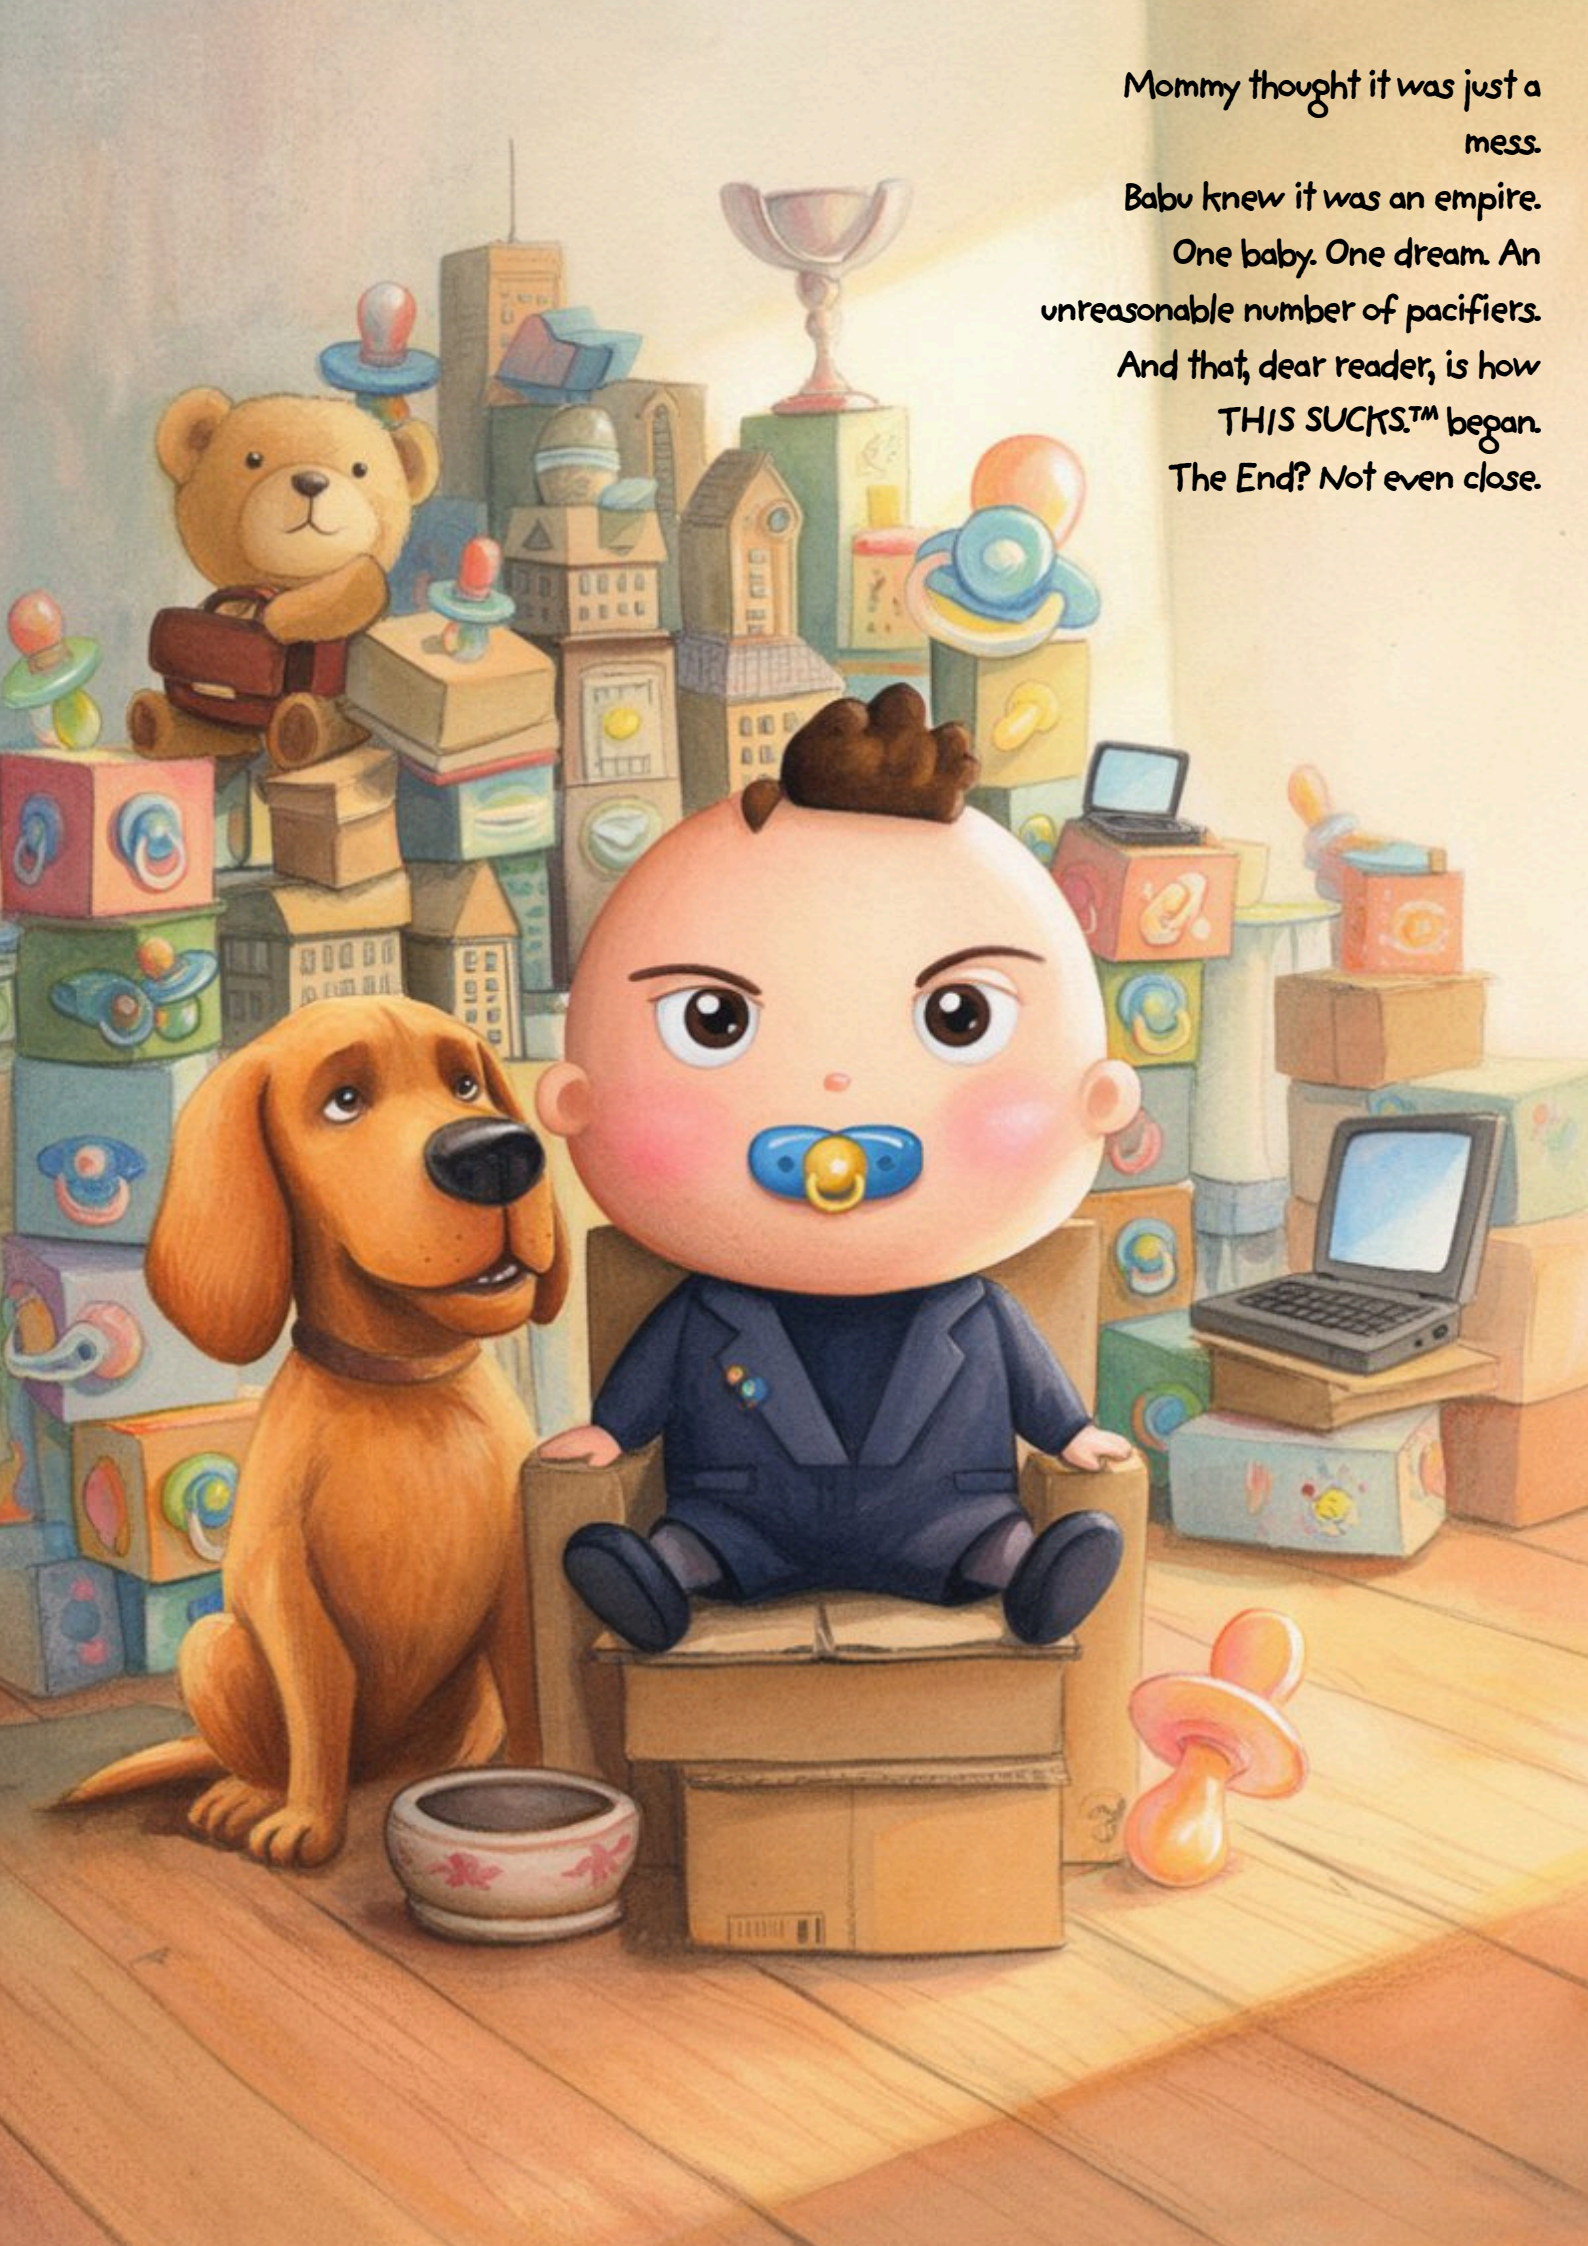
Business was booming.

Babu called it Research and Development.

The toys called it playtime.

Tommy called it a nap.

Nobody questioned the CEO.



Mommy thought it was just a mess.
Babu knew it was an empire.
One baby. One dream. An unreasonable number of pacifiers.
And that, dear reader, is how THIS SUCKS.™ began.
The End? Not even close.
